

Statement of Business Ethics

Overview

The Statement of Business Ethics provides guidance for all sectors of the community when conducting business with the City of Bunbury. It outlines the City's ethical standards and our expectation that goods and service providers will comply with these standards in all their dealings with the City. This Statement also outlines what goods and service providers can expect of the City.

Our key business principles

- Ethics and integrity

The City and its employees shall observe the highest standards of ethics and integrity in undertaking purchasing activities and act in an honest and professional manner. All parties will be treated equitably, consistently, impartially and fairly.

- Best value for money

The City will procure goods and services that offer the best value for money. Best value for money does not automatically mean the lowest price. Rather the City will balance all relevant factors including initial cost, whole-of-life cost, quality, reliability and timeliness in determining true value for money.

- Transparency and accountability

All purchasing activities shall comply with relevant legislation, regulations and the City's policies and be free from bias. Full documentation and accountability will be taken for purchasing decisions to ensure the efficient, effective and proper expenditure of public monies.

- Sustainability

The City is committed to sustainable procurement and where appropriate shall endeavour to design tenders and quotations to provide an advantage to goods, services and/or processes that minimise environmental and negative social impacts. Sustainable considerations will be balanced against best value for money outcomes.

What you can expect from the City

The City will ensure that all its policies, procedures and practices relating to tendering, contracting and the purchase of goods and services are consistent with industry leading practice and the highest standards of ethical conduct.

Our employees are bound by the City's Code of Conduct. When doing business with the private sector, City employees are accountable for their actions and are expected to:

- Use public resources effectively and efficiently.
- Deal with all individuals and organisations in a fair, honest and ethical manner.
- Avoid any conflicts of interests (whether real, perceived or potential).
- Never seek gifts or other personal benefits.

In addition, all City procurement activities are guided by the following core business principles:

- All suppliers (whether invited to make a submission through tender or through direct quotation process) will be treated with impartiality and fairness and given equal access to information to assist with quotations, tendering or supply.
- All procurement activities and decisions will be fully and clearly documented by the City to provide an efficient audit trail and to allow for an effective performance review of contracts.
- All contracts that involve services to the public will be undertaken in a manner consistent with the City's Disability Access and Inclusions Plan (DAIP) 2023-2028.
- Energy-efficient equipment, products containing recycled materials and environmentally friendly products will be purchased wherever reasonably possible taking into account best value for money considerations.
- Tenders will not be called unless the City has a firm commitment to proceed to contract although the Council reserves the right not to proceed with any tender or quotation so advertised.
- The City will not disclose confidential or proprietary information without written consent from the owner.

- Declare actual, perceived or potential conflicts of interests as soon as you or your employees become aware of the conflict.
- Act ethically, fairly and honestly in all your dealings with the City.
- Take all reasonable measures to prevent the disclosure of confidential City information.

- Assist the City to prevent unethical practices in business relationships by reporting such practices.

Why is compliance important?

By complying with the City's Statement of Business Ethics, you will be able to advance your business objectives and interests in a fair and ethical manner. As all City suppliers of goods and services are required to comply with this Statement, compliance will not disadvantage you in any way.

You should also be aware of the consequences of not complying with the City's ethical requirements when doing business with the City. Improper or unethical conduct could lead to termination of contracts or loss of future work with the City. Overall any business reputation can also be detrimentally effected if corrupt and criminal behaviour is made public.

Complying with the City's business principles will also prepare your business for dealing with the ethical requirements of other local governments and public sector agencies should you choose to do business with them.
